

Partnering To Generate Enthusiasm for Books and Reading

Tools Freely Available to Maximize Your TeachingBooks.net License

TeachingBooks.net is committed to working with you to give everyone in your school community access to authors and materials about books from school and home, including all:

- Teachers
- Curriculum Specialists
- Students
- Librarians
- Administrators
- Families

Partnering with you to bring books to life is our vision. We create curricular resources and support tools—and you help your entire community get the most from TeachingBooks.net!

Getting Started with TeachingBooks.net Orientation Phone Call

- Scheduled at your convenience
- Lasts about 30 minutes or longer/shorter depending on your needs

Training (in-service opportunities):

- Introductory movies
- Complimentary webinar trainings for your staff
- Printable brochures, flyers, and posters
- Customized bookmarks and flyers with your license's access directions
- Self-guided Professional Development Training Module

Getting people to know of and use TeachingBooks.net:

- Flyers and bookmarks (in 22 languages so all families can know about TeachingBooks.net)
- Emails to forward to colleagues with access directions
- Logos and links to embed on your websites
- Embeddable TeachingBooks.net search box for your websites
- MARC records of TeachingBooks.net Meet-the-Author Programs once IP authenticated access is established

Continually connecting educators to author and book resources:

- Eye-on-the-Web emails with new resources, customized for each adult subscriber
- Curriculum Connections e-newsletter has literature connections across the K–12 curriculum

Special communications with license coordinators:

- Monthly usage statistics summary reports
- Conduit e-newsletter for sharing new developments on TeachingBooks.net with colleagues

Customer Service: We are committed to helping you succeed in sharing author and book resources throughout your school community.

